Capcom has announced that it needs a way to use its account system to play Street Fighter 6 (SF6).

This means that you will need to create a Capcom ID and use it to play the game on PS5 or Xbox. This means you will need to sign up for the beta test of the game.

A Capcom ID is a unified account that can be used to play different games and online services from Capcom.

How do I sign up for a Capcom ID?

Visit the Capcom website for the online game.

In the Find My app or on the web at iCloud/find, you can find your phone on a map, play a sound if it's nearby, and mark it as lost to lock it with a passcode until you find it again.

. When you sign in, you might be asked to enter a code sent to a trusted device.
